

Celebrating 50 years as partners

For more than half a century, OSRAM and the Krautli group – a company selling replacement parts and accessories for bicycles, cars, commercial vehicles and ships – have been business partners.

To celebrate the anniversary, Dr. Wolf-Dieter Bopst, president of OSRAM, invited cousins and joint managing directors Markus and Peter Krautli to a special celebration in Munich.

Krautli began their relationship with OSRAM on May 25, 1950. The company now has four independent businesses in Belgium, Italy, Portugal and Switzerland, and is an important European customer in the automotive sector.
